

I am a practising psychologist since last 20 years. It was my dream to be a part of our country's development. If we want to make a change, we need to work from the root. In the counselling sessions I come across kids having several problems like ADHD, Learning disability, restlessness, lack of attention etc. or other psychological problem like speech problem or memory problem.

0-8 is the right age to develop the skills of the kids when the brain function is at its optimum. I heard about Respond Right Education program and went through the pamphlet and researched about it on the website. I found the concept was really good. I found they are using many techniques we use as psychologist in our therapies as part of the curriculum. So I was rest assured it would overall help the kids.

Jay approached me and briefed about the business scopes. I visited their office with my colleague and I was totally impressed. Once I took up the franchisee, my daughter and me, we came down to Mumbai for the training. The training was also excellent. I saw the smallest age group that is 1 to 3 years live class. Those kids who were running around also were able to absorb things. I knew children learn through observing, listening, imagining etc. But then I could see them practically happening over there.

Once I started the program, one child was having a slight speech problem, after few sessions mother came back to me, saying that, ma'am I can see a change in him, as he started communicating to other members in the family. Earlier only his mother could understand what he is saying. Slowly and gradually, he started saying words clearly and his memory improved. His parents were really impressed by the program at the end of the session. I feel this program is not only beneficial to normal students but is also helpful to kids having some developmental issues in the early ages.
